

356

Turn over

Brighton. Vicarage. Feb. 5. 1859

My dear Elliott

Instantly upon the receipt of your note

I wrote to the Bishop - and composed the letter with my own hand. I have been unwell - and when your messenger came last night, I was in bed - and I now fear that some anxious intelligence may have reached you to urge your immediate departure -

You will be apprised without the loss of one hour of the Bishop's arrangement in respect of the Confirmation. Will the "Poste Restante Pau" suffice?

Brighton, Vicarage, Saturday night, Feb 5 1859

My dear Elliott

Instantly upon the receipt of your note I wrote to the Bishop and composed the letter with my own hand. I have been unwell and when your messenger came last night I was bed, and I now fear that some anxious intelligence may have reached you to (delay) your immediate departure.

You will be apprised, without the loss of one hour, of one of the Bishop's arrangements in respect of the confirmation. Will the Post Restante of Pau suffice?

Send your address on the accompanying coupon by the bearer.

We (the Committee) cannot be too grateful for your very generous offer and I nothing doubt an early meeting will be held to determine on the subject and under any circumstance to express the warmest feelings of gratitude.

With my earnest hope that you may by God's Blessing find your daughter better—far better than a Parent's solicitude may lead you to expect I remain my dear Elliott truly yours

H M Wagner

Send your address on the accompanying coupon by the bearer.

We (the Committee) cannot be too grateful for your very generous offer - and I nothing doubt an early meeting will be held to determine on the subject and under any circumstance to express the warmest feelings of gratitude.

With my earnest hope that you may by God's Blessing find your daughter better - far better than a Parent's solicitude may lead you to expect I remain, my dear Elliott, truly yours
H M Wagner.